THE MONTHLY NEWSLETTER OF OCEAN PINES GOLF & COUNTRY CLUB

VOLUME 1, ISSUE 2

NOVEMBER 2015

FROM THE DIRECTOR OF GOLF JOHN MALINOWSKI

I've often said that golf professionals may be the only people who look forward to the November time change because the work days get just a little bit shorter! While I miss taking the kids out to play a few holes after dinner, I enjoy the chance to focus on other matters at the course.

One matter in particular that I want to address, and one that I know is of concern to many of you, is continued communication between the golfing community at Ocean Pines (especially our golf members) and the golf course management. As I mentioned in last month's newsletter, we are working hard to improve the ways in which we share information. I received positive feedback about the newsletter and am happy that so many of you are opening the weekly or biweekly emails and are clicking through to the website to obtain additional information. My hope is that sending you all information in a timely manner and on a regular basis will enable you to quickly and easily access what you need to know about happenings at the course.

Our plan is to continue to publish the newsletter monthly and to send the Monday member emails once every two weeks or once a week, if necessary. I'm sure you all receive a lot of emails, so I don't want to clog your inboxes. You can count on emails being succinct and occurring no more than weekly. With that said, if you know of an event or other matter that needs to be publicized to the entire golf membership, we will be happy to include it —just please keep the publication schedule in mind.

Although electronic communication is important, and is probably the best means we have for sharing information, it doesn't replace old-fashioned face-to-

OTHER NEWS

Did you know Superintendent Rusty McClendon has a blog? He shares pictures, course conditions and maintenance updates. Visit his blog at opgmturfcare.blogspot.com. His blog may also be accessed from the Ocean Pines Golf & Country Club website. Go to the home page at OceanPines-Golf.org and click on "Superintendent's Blog" from the drop-down menu under "Golf."

FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT RUSTY MCLENDON

Even though the golf season is winding down, the maintenance crew still has plenty to do. One of our projects will be to drain the wet spot to the right of #8, which is where the green drains out. We are going to extend the pipe to the woods in order to dry out the playing surface.

We will also aerify and seed the white tee on #7. While we complete this work, play will be moved to the front of the blue tee or over to the gold tee.

Finally, we are going to begin our deep-tine aeration of the fairways, which will be ongoing for the next few weeks. We will be working on an average of one hole a day and will do our best to work around play and stay out of everyone's way. Please bear with us as we work on this very important endeavor.

LADIES' ASSOCIATION NEWS

October was the last month of scheduled "Ladies Day" events. The final event of the year was the Closing Day Scramble on Tuesday, October 27. Lunch and a meeting followed a fun morning of golf, which was a step-aside shotgun tournament. At the meeting, the following members were elected as next year's officers: Lynn Schneider, chairman; Olga Novy, vice chairman; Norma Kessler, treasurer and Ann Shockley, secretary.

The 2015 season included several major tournaments, the results of which will be posted in the lobby between the Golf Shop and The Tern Grille. A recap of the tournament winners follows:

face conversation. One of the reasons I love being a pro at a golf course with an active membership is that it affords me the opportunity to develop relationships with the people who use the facility every day. I get to share your golf triumphs and your failures (Hopefully there will be more of the former, especially if I've given you a lesson!), learn about you and your families and, most importantly, hear about what we can do to make your experience at Ocean Pines Golf & Country Club more pleasurable. Having said that, please don't hesitate to stop by my office, drop me an email or give me call if you have an issue to discuss. I'm always happy to hear your input and offer information about the management of the golf course. In fact, I feel it's much more productive if I can address your concerns sooner rather than later. Although our member meetings are certainly a forum for sharing concerns, they only take place once a month. Waiting until a future meeting to address those concerns doesn't allow me or the rest of my staff to alleviate, if possible, a problem in a timely manner. While I can't promise that I'll give you the answer you want, I can assure you that the answer I give will be honest. And I can honestly say that it's my pleasure to call Ocean Pines Golf & Country Club my golf course home. I hope you feel the same!

With the holidays and colder weather upon us, many of you will be heading in different directions. Please continue to check your emails and the website to stay abreast of events at the course. I wish you all a happy and healthy Thanksgiving!

Other News

Nelson Fenwick has been working hard on the Florida Winter Bash, scheduled for Feb. 28-March 6 at a new location—Mystic Dunes Resort in the Orlando area.

This year the event is sponsored by the OPMGA & OPLGA, which opens it up to all Ocean Pines golfers and their friends; there are no membership requirements.

Mystic Dunes Resort has given us additional options as well. Mystic Dunes is more of a condo development than a hotel. The rooms are large with either one or two bedrooms and a full kitchen.

Included in the package are four rounds of golf at two different four-star courses and three group dinners. There will also be time to enjoy other activities in the area.

If you are interested, please contact Nelson Fenwick at nfewick1@mindspring.com or 410-600-0280 for more information. A flyer with further details is also available on the Ocean Pines Golf & Country Club website's member homepage.
